

Thursday 2nd April 2020

#SpikeDinosAdventures

Welcome to Spike Dino's daily post for children learning from home.

NEPAL; Traditional Clothing

Spike visited the Nepalese exhibition 'Do you see what I see' at the Museum. It's all about the Maidstone Nepalese community in Maidstone and the way they adapted to life here. He is sad no one else will get to see it at the moment, but pleased to hear it will be coming back to the museum later in the year.

He was fascinated by all the bright colours of the different fabrics the Nepalese people used in their clothing so he wanted his picture to be bigger today. You might have guessed Spike likes bright colours especially as he is so bright too. Each outfit is worn by a different group of people from Nepal.

Activity; Cheer up everyone around you today by wearing your brightest clothing. Then create a bright and cheerful picture of Spike to go in your window to cheer up your neighbours. It would be great if you could share this picture with Spike too.

Share your pictures tagging
@MaidstoneMuseum and
#SpikeDinosAdventures on social media

Hello from Spike

